Hi there, how can I help you today?

A global platform built on the world's largest mobility network

Reduce costs up to 10% by improving compliance

Our customers agreed they reduced costs on ground transportation and meals.¹ Monitor spending and usage and get controls to enforce policies.

Meet sustainability goals with actionable insights

Track CO₂ emissions for every ride on a dashboard exclusive to Uber for Business. These insights can help you take action and leverage sustainable travel options like Uber Green.²

Provide an exclusive experience for your teams

In addition to easy expensing and priority support, employees in select cities get access to ride options like Uber Business Comfort that allow your team to enjoy a premium travel experience.

Prioritize safety and security for your business

We offer additional crash-alert notifications for business users. Our latest U.S. Safety Report shows that 99.9% of Uber trips are completed without any reported safety incidents.

How companies leverage Uber for Business

Courtesy rides

Get started with no upfront costs

Customize your travel and meal programs

Set your own policies, help ensure T&E compliance, and get full visibility into every ride and meal. You can easily integrate with the top expensing partners for seamless expensing without paying a service fee.

Onboard people at your own pace

Add individuals, specific teams, or your entire organization at once. After your employees are invited, they can add a business profile for work-related rides and meals to their existing Uber account that they know and trust for business rides and meals.

Set up amenities for customers

Send Uber credit in the form of gift cards and vouchers for rides, meals, and more in a snap. You can even request rides for others to make their travel experience practically effortless.

The Zoom logo is displayed in its signature blue color. The word "zoom" is written in a lowercase, sans-serif font. The letters are slightly rounded and have a bold, dynamic feel, suggesting motion. The "z" has a vertical stroke on the left, and the "o" has a horizontal cutout on the top right. The "o" and "m" are connected by a thin vertical line on the right side of the "o". The "o" and "m" also share a common horizontal baseline.

“Pay and basic benefits aren’t the endgame. You need to be actively listening to what employees need and want. One of our first added benefits was providing Uber credit for rides, so people could safely get a ride for work or for fun. We encourage employees to spend the credits however they want."
